This 1973 BMW 3.0 CSL, with chassis number 2275232, is the 232nd of 429 vehicles produced with left-hand drive and the 3.0-liter fuel-injected engine. The chassis and engine numbers still match. The car was originally delivered in Polaris Silver. Manufactured in December 1972, this 3.0 CSL was originally delivered in Italy through the Palazzola dealership in Verona. This vehicle still features the characteristic aluminum hood and aluminum trunk lid. The car underwent a partial restoration a few years ago. It has an Alpina leather steering wheel. A few years ago, a German collector purchased this vehicle from his friend, a collector from Portugal. The vehicle has German registration with an "H" license plate.
