This Jaguar was completed on April 21, 1953 and delivered new to Los Angeles in the USA. The XK was extensively restored in Europe a few years ago. Hundreds of photos document the work on the vehicle. In the course of the restoration, a 3.8-liter engine was installed, which gives the vehicle better performance. The original matching number engine block is present. After the restoration, the car was driven approx. 2,000 kilometers in beautiful weather. This XK 120 is in perfect condition and ready for the next drive. A valuation report for 160,000 euros with an overall condition rating of “Very Good” is on hand.
