This Mercedes-Benz was first registered on July 19, 1994, and delivered from the Mercedes-Benz plant in Sindelfingen on July 26, 1994. Its interesting history is particularly noteworthy. The E500 was initially registered to Mercedes-Benz AG before passing into the ownership of the then-CEO of Kärcher. In total, the vehicle has had only three owners. The odometer reading is 191,012 kilometers. The vehicle has been serviced exclusively by Mercedes-Benz throughout its entire ownership history and still has a fully maintained service logbook. The E500 is painted in dark blue metallic. The interior features high-quality full leather upholstery in blue-grey and is stylishly complemented by elegant wood trim. The interior is in exceptionally good condition, underscoring the careful care the vehicle has received over the past decades. Externally, individual body panels have been professionally repainted over the years, which is not unusual for a vehicle of this age. This E500 stands out thanks to its traceable history, the small number of previous owners, its complete maintenance record, and its excellent overall condition. Details on the Limited trim. The E 500 Limited stood out visually from the standard W124 models in a subtle yet effective way: Exterior: No model designation on the trunk lid, sport suspension, and a choice between the legendary EVO II wheels or 8-hole aluminum wheels. Interior: Two-tone leather (e.g., black/volcano gray or black/chestnut brown), burl wood trim, and "Limited" emblems. Comfort: Fully equipped by the standards of the time, including air conditioning, heated seats, memory seats, and an electric sunroof.
